

E-Discovery: Achieving Litigation Readiness While Cutting Costs & Improving Outcomes

Join us for an interactive workshop with industry experts and your fellow e-discovery colleagues on September 10th. Then be our guest for lunch and baseball game in the Blue Jays luxury suite. Space is limited. Register today!

In today's litigious environment, not being prepared for electronic discovery can be an expensive situation. Organizations are bombarded by mountains of data, shortened court appointed deadlines and economic times have never been more challenged. No matter where your organization is in its e-discovery readiness journey, this workshop can help.

In this session we will explore:

- E-discovery update – what are the recent developments and trends?
- What are the real risks and threats of e-discovery and how do you minimize those risks, while maximizing cost savings and auxiliary benefits, such as better information management?
- Scenario review to explore best practices and pitfalls to avoid.
- Where to start readiness planning and how your organization can lay a broad foundation for e-discovery readiness that can grow with you?
- How building scalable enterprise information management and e-discovery capabilities can make your company more "litigation-ready" and allow you to evolve in a changing business and e-discovery environment?
